Practice Area Fair, continued

Panels
The Fair includes a series of 6 twenty-minute panel discussions. At each time, you will have a choice of attending one of two concurrent panels:
5:15-5:35 pm  -  Criminal Law (LC 207) or Civil Litigation (Moot Court Room)
5:40-6:00pm  -  Personal Injury (LC 207) or Business Law (Moot Court Room)
6:05-6:25pm  -  Family Law (LC 207) or Intellectual Property (Moot Court Room)

Table Talks (Law School Lobby)
In addition to the panels, you will have the opportunity to meet and talk informally with professors, adjunct professors and/or practitioners at informational tables that will be set up in the Law School Lobby. Seven additional practice areas will be represented: Labor & Employment; Trusts & Estates; Immigration; Bankruptcy; Environmental; Tax; and Health Care. These table talks will start at 5:45pm and end at 6:45pm. Informational tables will also be set up in the Lobby for each of the practice areas that are a topic of a panel. Table talks on those subjects will begin after the panel discussion and last until 6:45pm.

Reception (Law School Lobby)
The Practice Area Fair will be followed by the LCDO’s Annual Employer and Alumni Appreciation Reception, a networking event for students, faculty, alumni and employers. Beer, wine and heavy hors d’oeuvres will be served.

Journal Information Sessions
Journal membership is an invaluable addition to your resume and experience in law school. Not only will you become a master of the Bluebook, you will hone your writing skills while satisfying an upper-level writing requirement. Many students will even have the opportunity to publish an original piece. In today’s legal market, you must stand out. Some prospective employers will only interview students who are members of a journal. If you are looking for an immediate way to distinguish yourself from your peers, consider writing-on to a journal this May. To learn more, please attend the upcoming Journal Information Sessions on Tuesday, April 5th at 12pm and 5pm. (Location TBA). Representatives from Law Review, Law Forum, and the Journal of Land and Development will each give a brief presentation. You will meet current journal members, learn about each journal’s eligibility requirements, and gain a deeper understanding of how the write-on process works. Contact Annie Vanselow at annie.vanselow@ubalt.edu if you have any questions.
