Journal Information Sessions

Write on to a journal - not only will you become a master of the Bluebook, you will hone your writing skills while satisfying an upper-level writing requirement. Many students will even have the opportunity to publish an original piece. Legal employers highly value journal experience as it demonstrates strong research and writing skills. In fact, some prospective employers will only interview students who are members of a journal. To learn more about the write-on process, please attend the upcoming Journal Information Sessions on Tuesday, April 5th at 12pm and 5pm. (Location TBA). You will meet current journal members, learn about each journal's eligibility requirements, and gain a better understanding of how the write-on process works. Contact Annie Vanselow at annie.vanselow@ubalt.edu if you have any questions.

How to Get (and Where to Find) A Legal Job After Graduation

The LCDO will be offering a second "Mastering the Job Search Process" small group workshop on Thursday, April 14th, from 12:15-1pm and 5:15-6pm, to provide step-by-step guidance to 3Ls on finding a post-graduate legal job. Topics that will be covered include:

- Clarifying your goals;
- Structuring and organizing your job search;
- Avoiding the biggest timewasters and demoralizers;
- Finding unadvertised openings for new attorneys;
- Identifying potential employers and making contact with them;
- Informational interviewing; and
- Building and leveraging a professional network.

Please RSVP to atodd2@ubalt.edu. We also encourage 3Ls to meet with a counselor to develop a personalized job search strategy. Please email lawcareer@ubalt.edu to schedule an appointment.

Team Up for Pro Bono Happy Hour

The Pro Bono Resource Center, the Young Lawyers Section of the Maryland State Bar Association, and the Young Lawyers Division of the Bar Association of Baltimore City are sponsoring an evening of bowling, food, drinks, and prizes on Thursday, April 28th, from 5:30-8:30pm at Mustang Alley, 1300 Bank Street, Baltimore. RSVP by April 21st to Diane Rogers at drogers@probonomd.org or Michael Hudak at mhudak007@gmail.com.
