Federal Hiring

You have heard us say it before but in case you missed it, the Federal Government is hiring. And in the event you missed the informative presentation on federal hiring, please take a moment to review an outline of the presentation by linking to Federal Careers.

One of the best ways to get your foot in the door to federal experience is through an internship. There are many opportunities, some with deadlines approaching. If you are interested in the federal honors program, be sure to visit the Arizona Handbook for details and deadlines. Or, visit an agency specific website for the most up-to-date information.

But wait, there’s more! This week the LCDO will host the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) information session on Wednesday, September 15th from 4-5pm in the Moot Court Room.
