The University of Baltimore School of Law is a large public law school which offers the experience of a small liberal arts college. A significant part of that experience is the faculty and student interaction that occurs in the classroom.

Small class sizes enable students to maximize their law school experience. At the School of Law:

 › 86% of upper level classes have fewer than 50 students

Applicants are encouraged to complete the online application through the Law School Admissions Council (www.LSAC.org). Applicants may instead file a paper application. The application processing fee is $60 and is nonrefundable.

Applicants must register for the Credential Assembly Service (CAS) through LSAC.

To apply with a fee waiver, the applicant must apply with a paper application along with a copy of an approved CAS fee waiver.

Discovery by the admissions committee of any misrepresentation may result in the rejection of an application, revocation of an offer of admission, convening of a misconduct hearing by the LSAC and/or denial of admission to a state bar.

The accurate answering of question 28 (academic, disciplinary and criminal history) is important to the University of Baltimore and to the state bar associations. Answering this question falsely leads to consequences beyond rejection of admission. Attach a detailed explanation where appropriate.

Contact the Office of Law Admissions to determine whether any particular situation falls under the purview of question 28. To ensure accuracy in completing the application, order and review relevant academic transcripts and/or court documents.

The School of Law reserves the right to request further information from college officials, law enforcement agencies and the courts.

First Year Applicants: Admissions information

The admission cycle starts September 1 when the Office of Law Admissions begins receiving applications for the class that will enter 11 months later. The responsibility for ensuring that all transcripts, test score reports and letters of recommendation have been received rests with the applicant. Applications are not accepted for the spring term.

The deadline for application is July 15th. The University of Baltimore School of Law admits applicants on a rolling basis.

Upon receipt of the application, a confirmation is sent. Applicants receive a user ID and password to access application status information online.

All applicants must submit an LSAT score and a complete CAS report. LSAT scores are valid for five years. For information concerning the LSAT and CAS visit the Law School Admissions Council at www.lsac.org.

Applicant files must contain a minimum of 75 graded course hours and no more than 30 unconverted hours as found on the applicant’s CAS report.

Prior to enrollment, applicants must have earned a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited institution.

Additional requirements for international students and students who attended college/university outside of the US

Applicants who attended a post-secondary institution outside of the United States must arrange to have the transcripts sent to LSAC. Documents will be processed through the CAS.

Decision

The Office of Law Admissions communicates decisions by letter, email, or the online portal. Decisions are not communicated by telephone.

Only the applicant may inquire about the status of his or her application.

Applicants accepted prior to March 31st must make a seat deposit of $300 by April 15th to reserve a place in the entering class. A second deposit of $300 will be due by June 15th. The deposits will be applied to tuition and are nonrefundable.

Applicants admitted after March 31st will have 15 days from the date that appears on the decision letter to place a seat deposit.

Waiting List

Some applicants will be placed on a waiting list and may be considered for admission as seats become available.

Candidates on the waiting list may not be notified of a final admission decision until mid-August.
The waiting list may be reduced periodically as it becomes apparent that few seats are likely to become available.

Transfer Applicants: Admissions information

Students in good standing at other ABA-approved law schools may transfer after one full year of coursework. Students who have completed two years of law school are not eligible for transfer.

Coursework completed with a grade of at least C (2.0) qualifies for transfer. To transfer either half of a two semester course, both semesters must be completed with a grade of at least C (2.0).

Students may transfer up to 29 credits. Under certain circumstances, the admissions committee may permit a student to transfer up to 45 credits.

Decisions are made after all required materials, including a final official transcript, have been received.

Visiting Applicants: Admissions information

Students who currently attend another ABA-approved law school and have completed one full year of study may apply to take courses as visiting students during the summer term.

The student must submit a letter stating the basis for the request including the hardship or compelling circumstances.

Students who have completed two years of coursework may apply to visit for the final year of study.

A visiting student may not earn more than 32 credits at the University of Baltimore.

Visiting Student Application Checklist

Visiting students must supply a letter from the dean of the home institution. The letter must state that the student:

✔ is in good standing;
✔ may visit for the term; and
✔ may transfer all credits successfully completed at the University of Baltimore School of Law.

Applicants With a J.D. From an ABA-Approved Law School: Admissions information

Graduates of ABA-approved law schools may enroll in an upper level course as special students if space is available. Graduates must complete the application for admission and submit an official copy of their law school transcript with degree granted.
Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act (Public Law 101-542):
The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act requires that colleges and universities publish and distribute an annual security report. This report includes campus crime statistics for the previous three years, policy statements concerning crime reporting, access to campus facilities, enforcement and arrest authority of campus police, crime prevention and procedures to be followed in sexual assault offenses. The Act also provides for timely notice to the campus of crimes considered threats to safety and for the maintenance of a public crime log of all reported crimes. You may view and download this document by visiting www.ubalt.edu/publicsafety. You may also obtain a paper copy of the report from the Department of Public Safety by calling 410-837-5520.

Nondiscrimination:
The University of Baltimore does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, disability or sexual orientation in its programs, activities or employment practices. Inquiries regarding discrimination related to educational programs and activities should be directed to: Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, University of Baltimore, Academic Center, 1420 N. Charles Street, Baltimore, MD 21201-5779; 410-837-4755.

Drug and Alcohol Use:
The use or abuse of controlled or illegal substances, including alcohol, poses a serious threat to the health and welfare of a large segment of the college student population through lessening of academic performance, estrangement of social relations, creation of mental health and physiological problems, vandalism, and, in some instances, illness or death. The University of Baltimore Drug and Alcohol Policy is designed to help protect the health and welfare of students and to maintain an atmosphere and environment appropriate for learning.

Drug Policy:
The use, possession, sale, distribution or condition of being under the influence of controlled or illegal substances on University premises, except as permitted by law, is strictly prohibited.

Alcohol Policy:
The University permits the use of alcoholic beverages in designated areas on campus if such use conforms to all applicable alcoholic beverage law and the specific University regulations set forth in the Student Handbook. The use of alcoholic beverages on campus must also be consistent with the maintenance of a high standard of conduct conducive to learning.

Violations:
Violations of laws and University policies and regulations regarding the use of controlled/illegal substances and alcohol are subject to prosecution through both civil authorities and the campus judicial system. Penalties through the latter system depend on a careful review of the entire circumstances of each individual case but take into consideration such factors as the accused person's previous record, the nature of the substance and the degree of culpability. The range of University penalties includes, but is not limited to, disciplinary reprimand, loss of privileges, restitution, disciplinary probation, disciplinary suspension, disciplinary dismissal and disciplinary expulsion.

Directions to Campus:
The main entrance to the UB School of Law is one block south and one block west of Baltimore's Penn Station, served by Amtrak and Maryland's MARC train systems. Baltimore's Light Rail has a station at the University's Bolton Yard Parking Lot, and the Baltimore Metro's State Center Metro stop is four blocks from campus. The Jones Falls Expressway (also known as I-83), which runs through the heart of Baltimore, has two exits at the University.

Updated directions and parking information may be found on the School of Law's Web site. From the homepage (http://law.ubalt.edu), click on “About the Law School” and select “Location and Directions.”
